12-month Enrollment changes 2021-22

New FAQ: Ensuring Consistent Reporting Between EF and E12

- Fall enrollment is first reported in the Spring (current collection year). In the next data collection year, the entire prior 12-month period (July 1 to June 30) of unduplicated headcount enrollment is reported in E12.
- Because the fall term is considered a regular term for IPEDS reporting purposes, students enrolled in the fall term and captured in the EF survey should retain their same enrollment statuses (e.g., part-time or full-time, first-time or non-first-time, degree/certificate-seeking or non-degree/non-certificate seeking, undergraduate or graduate) in the E12 survey.

New FAQ: Ensuring Consistent Reporting Between E12 and OM

- While the E12 survey captures unduplicated enrollment counts during the 12-month period of July 1 to June 30, the Outcome Measures (OM) survey captures the 4-, 6-, and 8-year academic outcomes for the cohort of degree/certificate-seeking students during the same 12-month period. Like the E12 survey, students' statuses (i.e., first-time/non-first-time, Pell/Non-Pell, full-time/part-time) are determined by students' first full term (i.e., fall or spring).
- Unlike E12, the OM survey captures only degree/certificate-seeking students. For this reason, students' statuses for OM reporting purposes are determined in their first full term as a degree/certificate-seeking student.
- Therefore, OM counts should be same or slightly greater than degree/certificate-seeking student counts reported in E12 because there is the potential for some students to enroll as non-degree/non-certificate-seeking in the fall term (and reported as such for EF and E12 surveys) but then change their enrollment to degree/certificate-seeking in the spring term (and thus need to be captured in the OM survey).

Incarcerated Students and Second Chance Pell: Data Collection Considerations

About IPEDS TRP Meetings

Meetings of the IPEDS Technical Review Panel (TRP) are conducted by RTI International to obtain peer review of IPEDS-related project plans and products, and to foster communications with potential users of the data. TRP meetings typically are held over a 2-day period and are conducted within the Washington, DC area. RTI selects a group of TRP panel members (approximately 30) to attend these meetings dependent on the particular topics being addressed. Additionally, NCES staff and staff from other federal agencies in the DC area may attend these meetings.

RTI always welcomes comments and suggestions from interested parties on IPEDS-related products and plans. At the completion of each TRP meeting, TRP suggestions are typically posted on this website and comments are solicited.

Motivation for SFA Survey Changes

Purpose	Minimize reporting errors and improve the consistency, reliability, validity, comparability, and utility of the IPEDS SFA data, with an eye towards the long-term goal of reducing reporting burden.
Current Limitations in IPEDS	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Lack of clarity. The SFA survey component uses terms and concepts with multiple meanings in the education community. Some are clearly defined in the IPEDS Glossary while others are not defined.• IPEDS data alignment. Reporting periods for data items and institution types are not aligned within the SFA survey component and across other IPEDS survey components. This compromises comparability of education costs and outcomes across postsecondary education sectors, institution types, and education programs.• IPEDS SFA program metric. Current student groups, financial aid program categories, and levels of SFA data disaggregation are not ideal for answering prevalent consumer information, research, and policy questions.

NPEC and TRP Recommendations

The following recommendations are based on input received from 2011 - 2020:

Separate degree and non-degree-seeking students in Parts A & B	Allow for the calculation of Pell percentages based only on eligible (degree-seeking) students
Align SFA with OM and E12	Align for all undergraduates but get data sharing agreement with DOD and VA for military services and veteran's benefits
Disaggregate graduate students by degree level	Institutions have this data and many report it on the state level
Expand and standardize reporting fields	Include part time, transfer, returning, and graduate students and disaggregate by student socioeconomic characteristics
Collect FAFSA metadata	Data sharing agreement with FSA

NPEC and TRP Recommendations

The following recommendations are based on input received from 2011 - 2020:

Student progression	Purpose and data definition clarification needed. IPEDS collects completion/graduation rate and outcomes data. Link aid dollars to outcomes at 100%, 150%, and 200% of normal completion time?
Federal student loan debt	Data sharing with NSLDS or Student Loan Clearing House
FAFSA verification metadata	Data sharing agreement with FSA
State and local financial aid	Differences in how education institutions, organizations, and agencies define and categorize need-based and non-need-based financial aid programs
Net price survey	Add separate net price survey component to make it more meaningful

Overview of proposed changes

- Clarifying definitions
- Separating degree and non-degree-seeking students in Parts A & B
- Adding additional groups to align with E12 and SFA
- Standardizing fields collected

Motivation for TRP #62

Purpose	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Discuss opportunities to improve the utility of IPEDS data by collecting additional data on noncredit enrollment and activity that the postsecondary community and IPEDS stakeholders consider important, while balancing burden for data reporters.
Current Limitations in IPEDS	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Lack of data. Information on noncredit enrollment and related activities is not collected in any publicly available national data collection, resulting in significant gaps in what is known about the scope or scale of noncredit activity at the national level.• IPEDS metrics. Omitting noncredit activity disproportionately affects some sectors or types of institutions that have significant noncredit enrollment (most often 2-year public institutions) and affects the accuracy and comparability of key IPEDS metrics derived using enrollment and full-time equivalent (FTE) measures (e.g., student-to-faculty ratio, finance ratios).

Noncredit Enrollment and Activity Currently Collected

Institutional Characteristics Surveys (IC and IC-Header)	Enrollment Surveys (EF and E12)
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• IPEDS IC and IC-Header surveys collect only a few types of noncredit activity/instruction offered at postsecondary institutions.• IC-Header survey captures institutions offering “avocational (leisure) programs” and “adult basic or remedial programs.”• IC survey captures institutions offering “remedial services.”	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• No information on noncredit enrollment is currently collected in IPEDS enrollment surveys (EF, E12).• Institutions are instructed to report “all students enrolled for credit.”• However, students enrolled in some categories of noncredit or zero-credit courses may be reported in IPEDS enrollment surveys as degree-seeking (e.g., remedial and ESL course enrollment if students are enrolled eligible Title-IV programs and receive Title-IV aid).

Primary Recommendations from TRP #62

- Define “noncredit” and related terminology to reflect current trends and ensure consistent reporting, possibly within three primary categories: career/technical, foundational skills/college readiness, and personal/enrichment.
- Enhance the IC survey component to be the first “capture point” for noncredit activity with a series of simple checkboxes, collecting a modest amount of additional detail about noncredit offerings.
- Expand the E12 survey component to collect overall total noncredit enrollment count; instructional clock hours, potentially by the three primary noncredit categories listed above.
- Panelists agreed that a “start small and build upon later” approach would be most appropriate to increase the amount of data collected about noncredit enrollment and activity in IPEDS.
- Changes to student outcome surveys (e.g., Completions, Outcome Measures) to collect information on noncredit activity should be considered in future TRPs dedicated to individual surveys.

Next steps/proposed changes

- Developing noncredit definition and detailed instructions
- Capturing some noncredit information in IC-Header/IC
 - Types of noncredit activity
- Collecting noncredit enrollment in 12 Month Enrollment
 - Clarifying who should be included and not included

Proposed changes: Dual enrollment

Overview of TRP # 63: Capturing and Clarifying Dual Enrollment Data (Part II)

Purpose	Continue the TRP discussion that took place in March 2018 (TRP # 55) on practicable ways to collect and clarify dual enrollment data within the IPEDS data collection, while balancing burden for data reporters.
Current Limitations in IPEDS	Currently IPEDS does not collect information on dual enrollment offerings and enrollment in dual enrollment programs or courses separately, except for the single IC survey's question whether an institution accepts "dual enrollment."

Primary recommendations from TRP # 63

- Add options for dual enrollment courses and/or programs to the list of types of instruction/programs offered by the institution or add a new, separate question asking whether an institution offers or participates in dual enrollment courses or programs
- Add a column to E12 to specifically collect dual enrolled students and separate them from other categories (and maybe to EF)
- Further explore the impact of dual enrolled students on the student-faculty ratio
- Add a column in Completions, where appropriate, to collect the number of students who completed a credential entirely via dual enrollment

Next steps

- Add screening questions in IC Header
 - Determine applicability of collecting dual enrolled students in other parts of IPEDS
- Add collection of dual enrolled students in E12
 - Collected as part of ‘non-degree/certificate-seeking students in the existing table’ (same as current collection)
 - Broken out into a separate table

Overview of admissions discussion

TRP #64: Admissions Survey Component

- Held virtually on June 22 & 23, 2021
- Guiding Document:
 - 2020 NPEC paper, Improving and Expanding the IPEDS Admissions Survey Component
https://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/pdf/NPEC/data/NPEC_Paper_IMPROVING_EXPANDING_IPEDS_ADMISSIONS_SURVEY_COMPONENT.pdf
- Written summary:
 - https://edsurveys.rti.org/IPEDS_TRP_DOCS/prod/documents/TRP64_Summary.pdf

Primary recommendations of TRP #64

- Modify the open admissions definition for clarity
- Add a follow-up question to the IC Header question to better understand what open admissions means at various institutions
- Explore the possibility of collecting data for open admissions institutions
- Capture information on other admissions policies (e.g., early decision or early action)
- Make some clarifications in the list of admissions considerations
- Change/clarify the required/considered/recommended options
- Clarify test-optional institution reporting
- Consider additional groups beyond first-time students and fall entering students
- Add median test scores
- Additional test scores

Distance Education Resource Page

Distance Education in IPEDS

On this page, you will find information about how distance education (DE) is defined in IPEDS and which survey components collect data on DE courses and/or programs.

Click to read how to report DE given the effects of the Coronavirus Pandemic

Defining Distance Education

What is distance education?

Distance education (DE) is education that uses one or more types of technology to deliver instruction to students who are separated from the instructor and to support regular and substantive interaction between the students and the instructor synchronously or asynchronously. The following types of technology may be used for distance instruction:

- Internet;
- Satellite or wireless communication; and
- Audio and video conferencing

A DE course is a single course in which the instructional content is delivered exclusively via DE.

A DE program is a program for which all the required coursework for program completion can be completed entirely via DE courses.

Courses and programs are considered DE if ALL of their instructional portions can be completed remotely. Non-instructional in-person requirements (e.g., orientation and testing) do not exclude a course or program from being classified as exclusively DE:

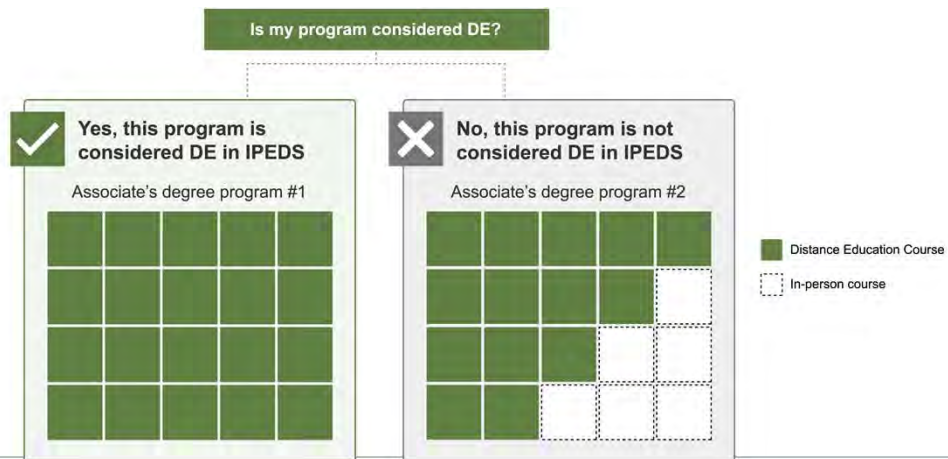

73

What constitutes a distance education program?

Students can take multiple DE courses without the program being considered DE. A program is considered DE only if students can complete ALL required coursework through DE courses.

Distance Education in IPEDS

IPEDS collects data on DE in four survey components: Institutional Characteristics (IC), 12-month Enrollment (E12), Fall Enrollment (EF), and Completions (C).

Which survey components collect distance education data at the course and/or the program levels?

How do IPEDS survey components collect distance education information?

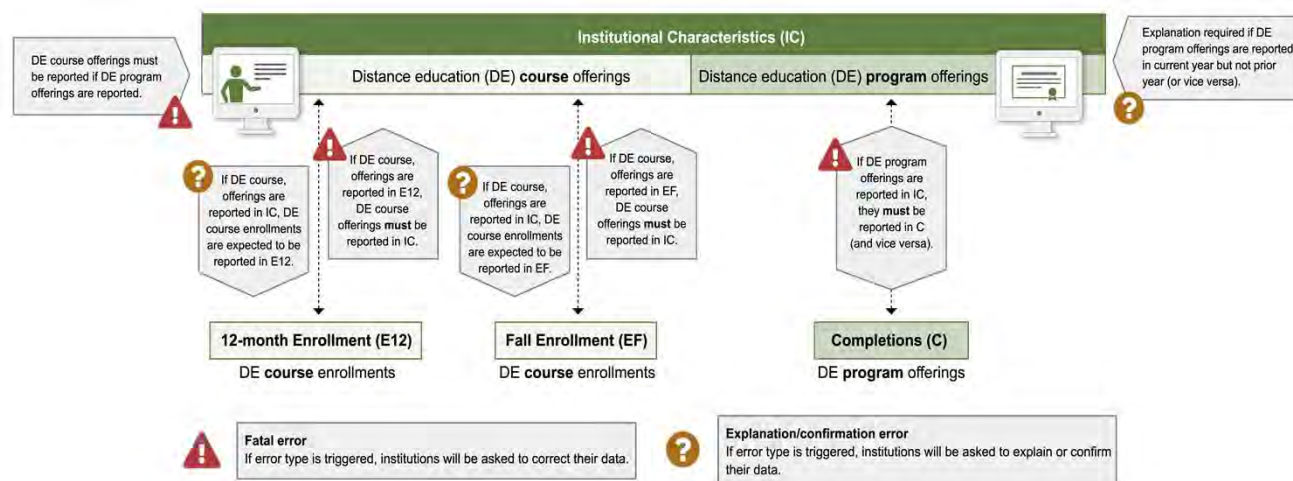

Overview of DE data collection in IPEDS

Completions (C) Click to view C survey sample	Fall	July 1-June 30 (prior year)	No	Yes	Multiple choice/checkbox	Captures whether all, some, or none of the programs within each CIP code and award level can be completed entirely, via DE, and whether certain DE programs have onsite components	Click to view C notes	Click to view C common reporting errors

How is distance education reporting integrated across IPEDS surveys?

IC data are the foundation of the entire IPEDS system. If DE course offerings are reported in IC, DE course enrollments should be reported in E12 and EF. Similarly, if DE program offerings are reported in IC, they should also be reported in C. Data submitters will receive error messages asking them to correct or explain their submission if DE data seem inconsistent between surveys or differ substantially with prior-year reporting.

Click on the graphic to view more detail on connections between surveys.

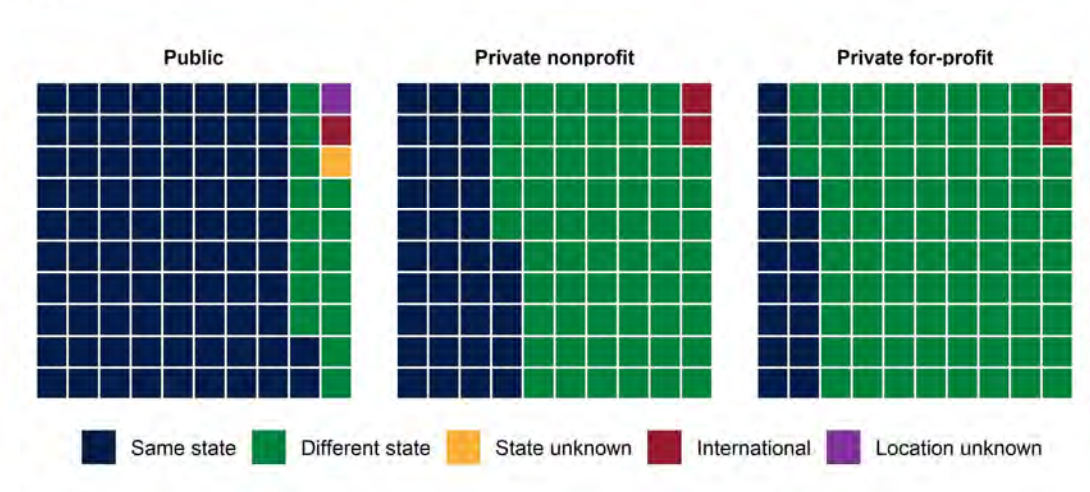

How are distance education data used?

- Data on DE courses and programs provide researchers and policymakers with more accurate information about higher education opportunities. Stakeholders and researchers can reference data on DE courses and programs through the Digest of Education Statistics and the IPEDS Trend Generator.
- Data collected on DE course and program offerings also allow institutions to compare their DE activities with those of their peers through an IPEDS Data Feedback Report.
- Perhaps most importantly, College Navigator provides valuable consumer information to students and parents by featuring information on DE enrollment and DE program offerings.

 - Number of colleges offering distance education courses and programs
 - Number of students enrolled in distance education courses
 - Distance education course enrollment by college control
 - Distance education course enrollment by college control and student location

Figure 4. Percentage distribution of college enrollment for students enrolled in only distance education (DE) courses, by control of college and location of students: Fall 2018

NOTE: One square represents 1 percent. "State unknown" is reported by the institution when a student's home state of residence cannot be determined; "Location unknown" is imputed by IPEDS to classify students when the institution does not report any residence status. Figure includes U.S. degree-granting institutions that participate in Title IV federal financial aid programs.
