

Great news! We have joined the Association for Institutional Research (AIR) as an organizational member. That means you have full access to AIR membership benefits.

About AIR

AIR connects and equips professionals in higher education who produce, analyze, and interpret data so they can more effectively, efficiently, and ethically use that data for the success of their organizations and the students they serve. For over 50 years, AIR has been committed to building and sustaining strong data-informed decision cultures within higher education institutions.

AIR Benefits

Read more about your benefits and view the Quick Start Guide to become fully immersed in the AIR community.

Getting Started

Accessing benefits through your organization's membership is easy.

1. If you don't already have one, create an account. If you have an existing account, simply use that one—even if it's connected to a personal AIR membership.
2. In your membership profile, ensure that your current employer is accurate. Connecting your profile to an employer with organizational membership is how you will access benefits. (Instructions)
3. Questions about organizational membership? Click here to learn more.